CALL FOR TECHNICAL EXPERTS & PROPOSAL WRITERS (CONSULTANTS)

CARE is an international humanitarian and development organisation without religious, political or government affiliation. CARE is committed to protecting and promoting the rights of vulnerable girls and boys, women and men and improving the lives of refugees and host communities alike.

CARE works at national, municipality and at the community level to develop customized solutions and ensure long-term sustainability as well as respond to basic needs. We design projects that fall into alignment with national priorities and be owned by communities. Our interventions range across clean water, affordable sanitation and community healthcare and sexual and reproductive health rights programs, economic opportunities, and protection. Across program areas, CARE's activities are guided by a rights-based, holistic, gender-sensitive/transformational, and inclusive approach.

CARE International has been operational in Lebanon since 2013 and works across the country.

CARE is seeking highly talented senior-level Humanitarian and Development Proposal Writers and technical experts to be included in our Consultants database. Interested consultants should have extensive experience working on initiatives funded by USAID, DFID, DFATD, ECHO, EU, UN agencies, World Bank and other major donors including having experience in private-public partnerships.

For consideration, Consultants, outside of excellent proposal development skills should possess expertise in the following areas:

- Child Protection
- Gender Based Violence of all forms
- Youth and women's employment and economic empowerment
- Social Protection
- Health (ASRH, MCH) and Nutrition
- Urban programming
- Water, Hygiene and Sanitation.

Interested and eligible individuals should submit their statement of interest, CV (no longer than 3 pages) and 3 references to the CARE International – Lebanon Country Office email to recruitment@careliban.org indicating CALL FOR TECHNICAL EXPERTS & PROPOSAL WRITERS in your email subject line. And complete the employment application form.

Deadline for applications: November 30, 2017
